Paris Grange

Paris Grange met Saturday, January 20, at 2 p. m., with about forty members present. Sickless kept many at home, only part of the program was carried out. A very interesting paper, "A Look Forward," at the possibilities of the Paris Grange, was read by Dora Taylor. Hazel Abbott gave a piano solo, Edith Lowell gave a reading, "What We Need in This Country." The question "The advantages and disadvantages of the present condition of our elementary schools" was discussed by Bros. Tyler, King, Cummings and several others. Roll call of members from A to Z was responded to by quite a number. W. Master spoke of his visit to the State Grange. W. Leet, a P. A. Stearns, Jr., not being able to be present, sent a letter to the Grange stating he had been sick in bed and still unable to sit up, but was feeling better and hoped to be able to get out at the next meeting, Feb. 3, as the W. State Lecturer expected to come. This will be an all day meeting, opening at 10:30 a. m., with a dinner. All who have not been solicited to bring beans, will carry pastry.

Friday, Feb. 2, the Grange will have an entertainment and supper, consisting of music by male quartet; farce, "Picked Up Dinner." Mrs. Ruth Masterman will be the reader, followed by a sociable.

Sons of Veterans

At a regular meeting of Joshua L. Chamberlain Camp S. of V., Jan. 19th, six new candidates were mustered to full membership. L. Rolse, Bert Rolse, H. L. Swan, Roy Frost, Percy Murch, and Ernest Murch. There were four new applications also voted on. The Camp voted to hold a patriotic meeting Feb. 16, in observance of Lincoln's Birthday. Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent has been invited and a good time is expected.

Officers for the American Legion Auxiliary have been elected and will be installed at the first meeting in February. Meetings have been changed to the first and third Wednesday evenings in the month. Officers elected are:

Treas.—Mrs. Marie Harris.
Flower Committee.—Mrs. Inez Hollis.
Press Reporter.—Miss Margaret Forbes.

A dance will be held Saturday evening Jan. 27 at the Grange Hall. Music by the All Star orchestra. A prize to be given winner of the elimination dance. See ad.

Rev. H. G. McGlaflin read a paper at the August District Preachers' Meeting at Bethel, Friday. Subject, "Responsibility of Ministers and Churches for the prevailing conditions."

Mrs. Fannie Eastman entertained the Luncheon Club at her home recently. The afternoon was spent socially.

Harry Whitehead took America's foremost concert baritone, with Fred R. Hill accompanist, appeared in a concert at Deering Memorial Church, Monday evening.

Leander S. Billings is gaining from his long illness and able to go out doors for short periods in favorable weather.

John Wright is one of the busiest men in town. Being janitor at six school buildings in the village, including the high school, he commences at 4 a. m. and during cold weather is on the jump until late at night. Mr. Wright estimates he covers at least ten miles every day when schools are in session.

Free Radio Concert at Cushman's every Friday and Saturday night.

The Old Fellows and Rebekah Carnival for Jan. 25-26 is on with business rushing at the I. O. O. F. Block. The sale Thursday afternoon will be followed by a minstrel and novelty entertainment and dance in the evening. Ceta orchestra will furnish music. Sale continues Friday with a fine supper at 6 o'clock. Menu will include cold roast pork, beef loaf, mashed potatoes, hot rolls, salads, cream and fancy pies, cake, doughnuts and coffee. A fine musical entertainment will follow.

B. A. Mead in Maine Farmer, says: "Drop the immigration bars and drive down wages with an over supply of labor. At the same time drop the tariff bars and let us see some of the cheap foreign goods we hear so much about."

Merrill in Concert Work

Joseph H. Merrill, son of Wiggins L. Merrill of Brockton, Mass., and formerly of this town has branched into concert work. He has been engaged by the Case Concert Co. of Syracuse, N. Y., as baritone soloist and accompanist. The company will tour New England and the Middle West, beginning Oct. 1th and continuing until late April 1924. Mr. Merrill is a former pupil of Mrs. Pearl Cook Kiburn of this town and has advanced far in his line. At present Mr. Merrill is studying voice at the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, Ithaca, N. Y.

Mr. Merrill has appeared in several recitals while there and critics have made favorable comments on his voice.

"The Ithaca Daily News" comments: "His voice is a beautiful one of wide range, having a fine quality in its upper register with rich bass quality in the lower range. His stage presence is a great asset."

The Case company is composed of: Jane Case, reader; Francis Jones of No. 54, pianist; Miriam Murphy of No. 54, violinist; Mr. Merrill, baritone soloist. Among the middle western states visited will be New York, Canada, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Officers Installed

The regular meeting of Victory Camp, No. 845, Royal Neighbors of America, was held at Norway, Wednesday evening, Jan. 17. A baked bean supper was served at 6:30. After the regular business of the camp, the officers for the coming year were installed by installing Officer, Gertrude Libby. Officers installed were:

V. O.—Mrs. Mabel Parlin.
V. A.—Mrs. Lela Starbird.
P. O.—Mrs. Elizabeth Klein.
C. O.—Mrs. Addie Lovejoy.
S. O.—Lotta Bean.
M. O.—Mrs. Edith Walker.
M. A.—Mrs. Mary Lewis.
Rec.—Mrs. Mabel Burnell.
Recorder—Tena Burnell.

Harry Rust Women's Relief Corps held their regular meeting Thursday evening with a full attendance. The work was exemplified on three candidates. Installation was conducted by past president, Adella Lovejoy taking the place of Mrs. Eva L. Fogg, who is ill. She was assisted by Mabel Warren as installing guide.

The officers are:

Pres.—Mrs. Sadie Lapham.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Nina Felt.
Treas.—Mrs. Annie Beck.
Conductor—Mrs. Edith Edwards.
Patriotic Instructor—Mrs. Edith Edwards.
Mistress—Mrs. Gladys Russell.
Assistant Guard—Mrs. Miranda Emerson.

The chaplain and color bearers will be installed at next meeting. The work of the two installing officers was done very pleasantly. The president appointed as relief committee, Mrs. Edith Edwards, Mrs. Nina Felt and Mrs. Ida Hall; flower committee, Mrs. Addie Lovejoy and Carrie Tucker. A board of trustees was appointed to take charge of the Monument Fund, which has been set aside from the general fund, Mrs. Edith Edwards, Mrs. Eva Fogg and Mrs. Addie Lovejoy.

The Corps is to serve a public supper at Legion Hall Thursday evening, February 1st and Mrs. Edith Edwards, Mrs. Addie Lovejoy and Mrs. Carrie Tucker are in charge. A quilt will be disposed of during the evening and in the meantime each member is asked to make a square 14 inches each way of crazy patchwork and hand to Mrs. Edwards by Jan. 28. The proceeds will help swell the monument fund.

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent, D. of V. will hold regular meeting Friday evening. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock with Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, Mrs. Edith, Ruth Libby, Mrs. Jessie Whitman, Mrs. Laura Threlkeld, Mrs. Fred Nevers and Mrs. Eva Kimball in charge. The work will be exemplified on a large class and also the obligation given. Installation of officers will take place and each officer is expected to wear white.

Albert Quinby of Auburn is employed as clerk at the Jackson, Greenlaw Co. store.

William W. Gallagher of Norway, but for some time legal adviser of the federal prohibition office in Maine, with headquarters at Auburn, is to be retained in his present position. He expected to be transferred to another state, but through the efforts of state officials and Senator Bert Fernald, orders have been issued for him to remain.

Dr. B. P. Goodrich of Lewiston, District health officer, was in the village, Thursday evening.

George Robertson started something on Main street, Saturday, when with several pounds of candy "kisses" and a crowd of youngsters he upset the winter stillness and cold weather decorum. Dividing the candy equally with the understanding the recipients would cheer lustily for sheriff Frothingham, caused shopkeepers and others to rush from their homes expecting a serious accident.

The youngsters certainly have good lungs. Miss Kilbride, R. N. of Lewiston has been caring for Mrs. Martena Richardson, who has been ill.

The Thimble Club was entertained last week by Mrs. H. B. Foster, the first meeting during the past two years. Refreshments, needle work and sociality filled a pleasant afternoon. Mrs. J. N. Farrow entertained the club this week Thursday.

Mrs. Carl Schenk visited her husband, Carl Schenk at the O. M. G. Hospital and found him much the same as for the past few weeks.

Mrs. Annie B. Walker who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Percy Walker at So. Paris is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Libby while Mr. Walker is in Boston to consult a specialist.

Otis N. Jones has returned from Boston and is to remain in town for a while. He is living with his father Judge Jones at Wm. C. Leavitt's.

NORWAY MUNICIPAL COURT

Wm. F. Jones, Judge

Henry S. Hamlin of Oxford vs. Chas. P. Kimball of Norway was on trial, Thursday. Hamlin sues Kimball for damages, a horse last spring. In passing, the auto struck the horse and did damage for which Mr. Kimball is asked to settle. W. G. Conary for Hamlin and A. C. Wheeler for Kimball. The case has not been finished.

Mrs. Mildred Mills Haggerty

Mildred Mills Haggerty, wife of Jasper Haggerty of Norway, passed away at a Portland hospital, Jan. 18. Death was due to acute Bright's disease. Mrs. Haggerty's age was 81 years and 2 months. She was a native of Bolster's Mills, Harrison, where her early life was passed; a graduate of Bridgton Academy and a teacher by profession previous to her marriage. In August, 1915, she was united in marriage to Jasper Haggerty of Houlton. Their home was in Norway. Mrs. Haggerty's business requiring her absence from home much of the time, Mrs. Haggerty had passed the last month at her parental home. Here, surrounded by the scenes of her childhood, she received the loving ministrations of her family. The day previous to her death it was deemed necessary to remove her to a hospital.

Mrs. Haggerty leaves to lament her early demise, her husband; a son, Jasper, Jr., six years of age; and an infant daughter whose eyes opened to the earthly life as the pure spirit of the mother took its flight to the heavenly; also her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Mills, two brothers, Elmer and Norman Mills; one sister, Lelia Mills; an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Weston, who were very near and dear to her; many always lived near her old home and several other uncles and aunts and their families.

The obsequies were held at her parental home, Jan. 20, Rev. Chester G. Miller of the Universalist Churches of Norway and South Paris, officiating. Friends from near and far gathered to do homage to her memory. Those who took part of love and sympathy—the beautiful flowers, in most lavish profusion surrounded her in her peaceful slumber—their exquisite aroma typical of the influence of her brief, but exemplary life.

Mrs. Haggerty's funeral, many disposition won many friends. She was devoted to the interests of her home, husband and little son, and was eagerly awaiting an added star to her crown of motherhood when the Reaper came.

"Shall I have you that is fair," said he: "Have naught but the best," said she.

"They shall all bloom in fields of light, Translated by my care, And Saints, upon their garments white, These sacred blossoms wear."

Avoid Influenza and Pneumonia

Influenza and pneumonia are on their way. The State Department of health has sent signals and tells how to guard against it.

"Infection is spread by eating and drinking utensils at home and elsewhere; by droplets sprayed into the air in talking, sneezing and loud talking; by finger and hand contact; and by towels and other toilet articles used in common."

"Cut out unnecessary visits; to public places and unnecessary travel; the sterilization with boiling water of forks, spoons and drinking cups that might carry infection from mouth to mouth; and the washing of hands carefully before meals and keeping of fingers away from mouth and nose."

Stay at home and sleep in a room with the windows open. Good advice.

The Caduceus

The January number of the Caduceus is being distributed by the school of Norway High School. The fifty-six pages are alive with the school spirit and reflect credit to all who had a part in its production.

The magazine contains editorials, short stories, poems, humor, and school letters to date, "pointers" with a point, school notes, a good list of Exchanges, a complete record of Alumni and many telling advertisements. One full page photo shows the football eleven and coach Cusack.

The Berlin Professionals will play here again Wednesday evening, January 31, with Leavitt in the line-up. Norway will be strengthened and a regular battle will be staged by manager McCready. Everybody enjoyed the team work Wednesday evening and will be pleased to see the two fast outfits get into it again.

The music committee for the clerks' ball has secured the Foristral Orchestra of Portland for the annual event. The musical organization appears at all the exclusive social functions in Portland and will be highly recommended.

Rev. O. E. Barnard expects to attend the convention at the Bangor Theological Seminary commencing Monday and extending until Friday.

A prominent University instructor and preachers are on the program.

Mrs. Gertrude Libby's class of girls in the Sunday school served a delicious supper at the Congregational vestry on Wednesday evening, this being in connection with the January circle farce "Young Dr. Devine" was presented by the girls in an interesting manner. Mrs. Esther Anderson rendered several pleasing solos. The mothers helped with the supper and assisted to make this a happy gathering.

Leona M. Sloan who is attending Bates College was at home over the week end.

Herbert S. Hill, state superintendent of Manual Education, has inspected the agricultural department at the high school and in his report he expressed satisfaction with the work accomplished.

Who is he? Tell us. "He wears better clothes, smokes nicer cigars and works less than any other man in Norway?" Who is he, give name.

BASKETBALL

Norway Claims Game a Tie

The game Saturday evening on the Mexico surface between Norway High School and Mexico High School resulted in a tie according to Coach Leroy Luce, ex-Bates athlete. He scored for the Norway outfit and can't make anything but 31-31, although the referee gave Mexico the game 21-20 as scored by a youngster with small experience. Capt. King is convinced Norway won with a 31-29 result, but is content under the circumstances to call it tied.

The game was fast and close from the start and never went the outfits over four points apart. With this speed on tap and a general scramble for advantage, a confusion in tabulating baskets would be the easiest thing possible. A mix-up did take place according to the coach and Capt. King and occurred during the last three minutes of play. No opportunity was allowed for adjustment after the game, although a vigorous protest was lodged and the Norway outfit refused to accept the result as awarded. The story by an eye witness follows.

Norway after a fast, hard fought game on the Mexico floor, Saturday night, Norway led at the end of the first half 16-15. Referee Rawson, otherwise Principal Rawson, called 16 fouls on Norway, giving his team about 30 free throws on the final line. Only 5 fouls were called on Mexico.

"With about three minutes to play, Mexico was in the lead 29-25 and a strong, Palmer dropped in two floor baskets and Lafrance nailed one in the last two minutes. The young scorer for Mexico was in error by giving Palmer credit for only one basket and justified his move by saying he gave the other to someone else as he couldn't see who got it. The only excuse the Mexico official would offer for the mistake was that the Norway tabulator did not sit at the Mexico official 'scoring desk'."

Following is summary according to Coach Luce's book:

For the first time in several years, at least, the Norway H. S. Girls trimmed the Mexico H. S. Girls Friday night at Mexico.

Although playing on a floor with an incline that resembles that of a theater, the locals had no difficulty in showing their superiority. The Mexico forwards owing to the excellent work of the opposing guards secured only one lonesome goal from the floor.

Helen Richardson had the distance from the foul line to the basket so well measured she scored, by that route, 9 points out of 13 chances. Her total for the evening was 18 points, 8 times the Mexico total. Florence Hadley, Norway's other forward, contributed 5 baskets from the floor.

The game with the Berlin girls, on Friday night at Norway Opera House, should be a close, fast contest. Berlin won the two games last year and Norway is out to turn the tables this year.

N. H. S. vs. Berlin High School

The fast going Berlin High School quintet will attack the Norway outfit at the Opera House, Friday evening. Mrs. Leavitt called at 8:15. The New Hampshire basketballers are regular boys and handle the sphere neatly. They have a large squad and change often during a game, thus holding the speed with many winners. Norway is in excellent shape and will go on the floor groomed to play fast and snappy.

Norway girls and Berlin girls expect to meet in the preliminary and open the evening sport. This get-together should create interest for the teams are about equal and will put up a clean cut contest.

Dancing after the game with music by Shaw's Orchestra.

Berlin 41; Norway 26

In a fast and furious battle on the Norway Opera House surface, Wednesday night, Berlin Professionals cleaned up the contest after a struggle. Both teams played clean cut professional basketball with Berlin the more experienced in tricks and weight. Norway opened strong and held well, giving the visitors a pretty good run and some work.

Without question Berlin is the fastest outfit thus far and can show great skill. Norway gamblers played with excellent speed led by Luce and closely trailed by Desocan, "Wild" Bill Ledger, King and Purlington.

"Barb" Austin, the referee, was one of the busy ones and very lenient. His work was highly complimented by the visitors.

About thirty-five couples from Norway and South Paris attended by invitation a private dancing party at Pythian Hall Friday evening. The hostesses were Mrs. Bessie Hill, Mrs. Marion Yellerson, Mrs. Blanche Smith, Mrs. Margaret Goodwin, Mrs. Fannie Clark, Mrs. Helen Pendexter, Mrs. Edward Downing, Mrs. Clarence Riddon and Mrs. Clara Luck. Shays orchestra played for dancing and cards were at the disposal of all who wished. The evening was an enjoyable one.

Serious Error in Norway

Norway Citizens Will Do Well to Profit by the Following

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Norway there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Norway resident's experience.

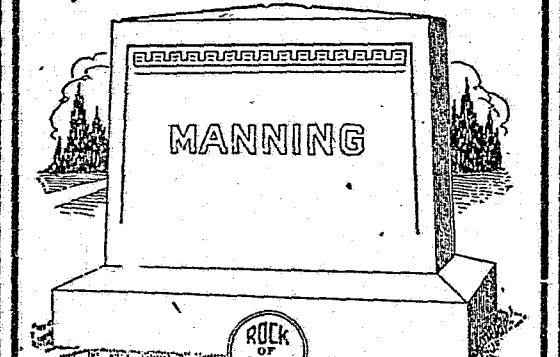

Mrs. Orville Palmer, lower Main street, says: "Just recently I was suffering from disordered kidneys. My back was painful and it made me restless at night. I was dizzy and everything seemed to turn around in the room. My kidneys didn't act regularly. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in the family with benefit so I decided to go to Clark's Drug Store and get a supply. After using two boxes I was all right so I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Palmer had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE STORM

The snow is falling thick and fast. The roof cracks overhead. The lights are dim, the cold comes in. The folks have gone to bed. The night is dark and deep they bark. I shiver now with chill. The north winds blow, the drifting snow. Has covered each and all. The youngsters all are tucked in bed. Away from every harm. With pillows underneath each head. The scowling keeps them warm. The old cat he sits here and sings. His back towards the fire. He hears me when I touch the strings. Upon my harp or lyre. The wolf is skulking 'cross the lee. I hear his bitter wail. The black growth trees they sway and moan. Through valley, hill and dale. The ice glazed ledge in fetters tight. Stands out so brave and bold. It is a phantom like a specter. It laughs at wind and cold. A half-starved fox sleeps in his lair. He's growling like a lion. A wolfed bound will bark and bound. And keep close on his trail. The heartless hunkers will be there. Who carry murderous guns. To lay him low in fleecy snow. To slay him when he comes. All through the night I'll burn a light. I'll burn it good and strong. To help some weary stranger. If one should come along. From the sheep there comes a bleat. I hear the cattle call. A spell is cast, they dread the blast. A horse whines over the stile. I'll light my pipe, I'll sup my bowl. And watch the fire bright. And just have pity for the soul. Who's burned out tonight. I'll share my lot, my humble cot. My fire's glow and cheer. A cold old, hard winter's cold. Will find a shelter here. The tempests blast goes howling past. I breathe a sad Amen. From the chimney comes a roar. The tower clock strikes ten. The night is old, the hearth is cold. A fervent prayer I've said. I'll wind the clock, put out the cat. And tumble into bed. FREDERICK MARSHALL DAVIS. Norway, Me. Copyright 1923.

"Give Honor to Whom Honor is Due"

There is not a man in this country who has done so much to contribute to the pleasure and happiness of the people in general and especially the laboring class, as Henry Ford. I do not refer wholly to what he has done to improve the lives of the many thousands of men and women employed by him in his tremendous business, neither do I mean the great amount of pleasure he has radiated by putting on the market a car that was within the reach of men and women in moderate circumstances. Mr. Ford has practically a world wide monopoly of the inexpensive car and he has set the world an example for broad minded humaneness in business that today is very rare. Mr. Ford has voluntarily reduced the price of his cars whenever possible, instead of showing the selfish spirit manifested by most of our millionaire magnates who are at the head of large corporations.

If Mr. Ford had not made the last $50 reduction in the price of his cars, just figure out the millions he would have added to his wealth in a few months! Take for instance the Standard Oil Co. and watch for a year their working. Evidently there is no limit to the size of declared dividends, but "who pays the price?" It is the laboring class paying double what he should for his gasoline to enable him to give his family and himself the wholesome, healthful recreation needed after his hard labor! How much nearer to a 100 per cent. man is Henry Ford by making these reductions than the man who holds practically a world monopoly on oils and refuses to reduce the price of gas, simply because it would reduce his immense dividend a little perhaps 200 per cent. leaving him perhaps with only 100, which to the casual observer seems a mighty good return.

Now then, "As goes Maine, so goes the Union." Why not start a boom right now in favor of Henry Ford for president of the United States? We need just such men at the helm! Men who are willing to sacrifice a little if there be need of self sacrifice, men who have deep rooted principles, men who keep the faith, who are not looking for every petty chance to over-reach in business, men who can be trusted, men who know that unless good men rule the world, bad men will. We need today, men who will fight for America, who will fight for righteousness, who will fight for the faith that has been handed on to us by those who established this nation. This is the type of men we need to keep the country free from the selfish grasping who are so eager to make it something different from the America we love!

NEW ENGLAND'S BIG CITY

Not infrequently we hear the remark that Boston is fast losing ground as one of the big cities of the country. Many a westerner compares his own city with the once proud Athens of America and, under understanding conditions, believes that many of western towns will soon pass Boston in size and importance and many a New Englander has come to believe this very thing. Western cities have made wonderful progress and no one doubts but what many of them are destined to be the great cities of the future. But the claim that many of them have already outgrown Boston is not true and from all facts and statistics available, it looks as if it would be many years before Boston loses its position as fourth city of the nation.

One fact not understood by many is that most western cities have increased their suburbs while a larger part of Boston's suburbs are still independent towns and cities. Cleveland, Ohio, Detroit, Michigan and St. Louis, Mo., are western towns which claim a larger population than Boston, but, as a metropolitan district, they compare with Boston as follows:

City	Population	Area
Boston	1,173,254	49,889
Detroit	1,165,153	136,000
St. Louis	924,013	92,040
Cleveland	925,720	57,870

In metropolitan Boston as defined by the laws of Massachusetts and which do not claim as large an area as that included by the Census Bureau are the following cities and towns, thirty-nine in all, which form in every sense the word one city of Greater Boston. Newton, one city of Greater Boston. Newton, Somerville, Everett, Chelsea, Winthrop, Nahant, Swampscott, Lynn, Saugus, Wakefield, Reading, Woburn, Winchester, Stoneham, Lexington, Melrose, Medford, Malden, Revere, Arlington, Belmont, Waltham, Watertown, Needham Heights, Brookline, Weymouth, Dedham, Dorchester, Mattapa, Braintree, Weymouth, Hingham, Cohasset and Hull.

Boston's bank clearings for the month of November, 1922, were $1,558,000,000 compared with $401,719,243 for Cleveland and $497,252,798 for Detroit and compared with the largest cities as follows:

City	Clearings
New York	$17,332,278,296
Chicago	2,365,113,173
Philadelphia	1,934,000,000
Boston	1,558,000,000

For a statistics available, Boston is still the fourth city of the nation and regardless of the growth of our large western centers, will always remain one of the big cities of America and New England's greatest center.

Woodstock-Andover
On Thursday, Woodstock's fast, swift quintet journeyed to Andover and won a rough game of basketball by the overwhelming score of 41 to 8. The first half ending 11 to 2, shows that Woodstock did not open up until the last half. Vetqusky was easily the star of the game. Last week's game was a good test for Woodstock as they play the strong Hebron Academy team here next Saturday night in what should be the season's classic. Hebron is the only team holding a victory over Woodstock this year.

A TRIP TO FLORIDA

By Lydia Lord Shedd
G. E. Cobb of Denmark, Maine, proprietor of Denmark Inn and camps for adults, Wyegonic Camps for girls, Winona Camps for boys, is here at his beautiful winter home in Vero. His wife came last week. Mr. Cobb is putting in one hundred and twenty-five acres of tomatoes. He has three crews at work planting. The ground is prepared by a tractor engine and a disk harrow, smoothed over by a float hauled by a mule. The fields are laid out in ten acre lots, surrounded by ditches for drainage. The rows are 80 rods long, 6 feet apart, 2 1/2 feet between the hills, about 616 hills to an acre. It takes one half hour to plant a row. The first man digs the holes with a hoe, the second drops the fertilizer, the third drops the seeds and covers with his foot. The fields are fertilized by a fertilizer drawn by a mule. Mr. Cobb also owns one hundred acres of land on the Island. He has other land he is planting to cabbages, peppers and beans.

The tomatoes are very stocky, need no support. Mr. Cobb employs all Northern men in his work. He is a very successful business man. He wanted to invest in the South, so after looking around he chose Vero for his business operation, as the finest climate and finest part of Florida. Vero has gained much by his presence here.

Another one of Vero's promoters is A. M. Hill, who owns large tracts of land. He is one of the oldest Real Estate Agents in Vero. He has one orange grove surrounded by a hedge of bamboo and Australian Pine trees. He too is a very successful man.

The Vero Woman's Club held a Secretary's meeting at their clubhouse Friday, Jan. 12th. The meeting was given in honor of one of their first presidents and Charter Member, Mrs. Riggs. The room was tastefully decorated with beautiful flowers. The tables were spread with many dainty viands. Foremost was a beautiful cake with the names of all the Presidents of the Club, as a gift cake to Mrs. Riggs. She was presented with a beautiful parasol of pongee silk which she greatly appreciated.

J. P. Cooper, a Druggist of Miami, recently purchased a beautiful grove consisting of 21 acres of Dr. Yearian of Miami. 14 acres are planted to grapefruit and oranges. The consideration was $17,500. He will reside in Vero. Many groves are being laid out and many are exchanging hands daily. Many Maine people are coming into this city daily, more this month than any other month in the year. Seth Jewett and his wife of H. H. Jewett, came last week. He built a dandy little house all equipped on his Ford Truck. They came there in it and are living in it on Fred Sanborn's lot, a former Denmark man, who has his winter home here. He has been making additions to his house recently. He owns a fine orange grove here, he planted after coming here.

WATERFORD

Mrs. Abigail M. Tobie
Mrs. Abigail M. Tobie, widow of Capt. William Tobie, who passed away at O. M. G. hospital, Lewiston Sunday morning after an illness of six weeks, was born in Waterford, April 14, 1850. Nearly all her life has been lived in Mechanic Falls, where she was loved by everybody. She is survived by three children Mrs. M. E. Parsons of Lewiston, H. Eugene Pattee of Mechanic Falls, Charles F. Tobie of Los Angeles, Calif. Ten grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren also survive. Her memory was unusually tentative all her life. To her family she was almost a walking encyclopedia of facts, historical as well as personal. This combination of physical vigor, cheery disposition made her a woman distinctive in the community. Two step-children also survive: Dr. Charles Tobie, Mechanic Falls and Mrs. Clarence Sprague, Lynn, Mass.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

The entire village has been called to mourn since Thursday morning when it was learned that word came over the wire during the night of the death of Mrs. Mildred Haggerty, who was taken to a Portland hospital the previous day. Great sympathy is felt for her brother, Elmer Mills, who served the country in the later war and has since been an invalid. Mr. Mills is in Hot Springs, Ark. for the winter, being unable to endure the rigors of a severe climate. He and his sister were unusually attached to one another and this sudden blow will be to him particularly hard away from all his dear ones. The old home friends are remembering him with love and sympathy at this time.

Among those from a distance who came to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Haggerty were Arthur Haggerty of Westbrook, John Green and wife of Massachusetts and Mildred Ingersoll of Westbrook.

WEST POLAND

Dora Tripp has finished work at Gloucester and returned home.

Mrs. B. M. Fernald left Tuesday for Kennebunk where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Norris Bruth and then go on to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Carrie Nason has returned home after visiting relatives in Portland.

Mrs. Dana Hodgkins and Thelma Flynn were in Lewiston, Thursday and returned Friday.

Doris Woodson spent the week end at her home at Johnson Hill.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all who attended the card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Blais, Wednesday. Refreshments of pop corn peanuts and candy were served.

Mrs. Gladys Bailey and children have been sick with colds. Virgie Coffin has been working for them.

D. B. Rankin was in the place last week to attend the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Terrell.

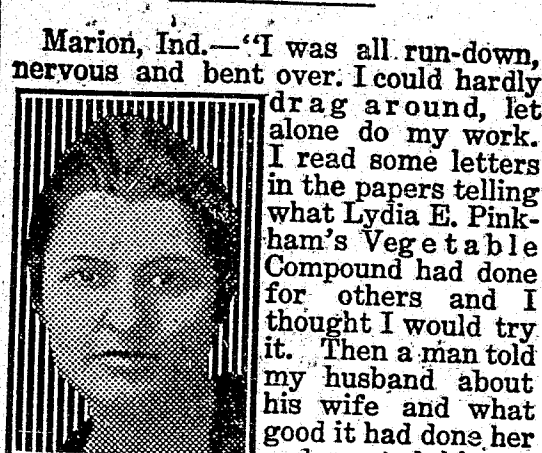

Lawrence Emery has been painting and papering for Dana Hodgkins.

WEBB'S MILLS

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight and Now Doing Own Work, by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a man told my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills too, and think them fine."—Mrs. Wm. Eldridge, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years' service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss.
To the Honorable Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court to be held at Paris, within and for said County of Oxford, on the second Tuesday of February, A. D. 1923.

Respectfully Represents, Merrill W. Emery, resident at Norway in the County of Oxford and State of Maine that he was lawfully married to Flora May Emery, then Baker, whose residence is unknown at Hoboken in the County of Hudson and State of New Jersey on the 14th day of January, A. D. 1921, by a person duly authorized to solemnize marriage therein.

That the Libellant and Libellee cohabited in this State after their said marriage; and That the Libellant resided in this State when the cause of divorce accrued as hereinafter set forth.

That the Libellant has resided in this State in good faith for one year prior to the commencement of these proceedings.

That the Libellant has ever been faithful to his marriage obligations, but that the said Libellee has been unfaithful of the same.

That there is no collusion between your Libellant and the said Libellee to obtain a divorce without reasonable cause and has continued said desertion to the filing of this libel.

That the said Libellee has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment toward your Libellant to the great injury of his health and happiness.

Wherefore, your Libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between himself and the said Libellee may be decreed. And your Libellant further alleges that the residence of said Libellee is unknown to your Libellant and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence.

Dated at South Paris, Me., this sixth day of January, A. D. 1923.
MERRILL W. EMERY, Libellant.

STATE OF MAINE
Oxford, ss. So. Paris, Jan. 6, A. D. 1923.
Personally appeared Merrill W. Emery above named Libellant and made oath that the foregoing allegation as to the residence of the Libellee is true.

Before me,
ALTON C. WHEELER,
Justice of the Peace.

STATE OF MAINE
Oxford, ss.

THE TIMBERLAND QUESTION

When Shall This Devastation Cease? Some Valuable Suggestions Made to Owners

By Richard F. Chase, West Baldwin
As one views the surrounding country from almost any elevated position in our state he beholds on all sides what appear to be inexhaustible forests, but in reality what does he look upon, particularly if his view is obtained from some point in the southern or western part of the State? Certainly he does not look upon forests of merchantable timber, because there is comparatively little such timber left, how little, probably but few persons fully realize.

Some of our older residents can readily recall the extensive logging operations from 30 to 50 years ago, and the big log drives on our rivers that ensued in the Spring; they realize that in those times millions upon millions of virgin black growth timber was annually driven to the saw mills, and surely, even the casual observer of today during his automobile trips through the country cannot have failed to note the numerous sawdust trails beside our highways and the resultant tracts of devastated land now covered only with slash and bushes and the stubs of trees long since past their usefulness.

Such scenes represent in the main the results of the lumber operations of our second growth timber, that which has grown since the earlier logging of the virgin or old growth timber. On our many abandoned farms and in our now-adays little used pastures young growth most often pine, has been permitted to spring up and it now perhaps averages 25 years of age. Is it realized that from 30 to 75 years will be required for this growth to reach merchantable size timber, 16 inches or over? It is mainly this young growth, this prospective timber, together with the old wood left standing, that the observer from his elevated position sees as an endless forest, for this alone is all that is left.

If some of our farmers, timber owners, do not realize how little timber there is left, consider your own standing timber and that of your town as compared to the amount standing, say, 10 to 20 years ago. As such an estimation may require more mental effort than you care to give the subject, take the town of Baldwin as an example. During the past ten years, 1913 to 1922, fifty million feet of black growth timber have been cut of this town (to say nothing of the cutting of pulp, dowel stock, car timber, etc.) Five million feet per year for 10 years! At this rate of cutting in five years more there will not be 50,000 feet of pine or hemlock saw logs left in the town.

It is assumed that the rate of cutting in other towns is much the same, if they possess the timber. If some of you city dwellers are not familiar with the cost of lumber for building purposes, and the cost is indicative of supply, then perhaps this winter you have had brought to your attention, by its cost, the availability and supply of cord wood; and remember, please, that good ash, oak, and birch are worth more for other purposes than for fuel.

It is not alone in our own towns, counties, or States that this scarcity of timber occurs, but throughout all the States of the Union! Colonel W. B. Greely, chief of the National Forest Service, says: "Federal legislation is needed because the United States is now consuming wood four times as fast as it is being grown. The country's face is definitely a growing scarcity and an increasing cost of everything made of wood."

Now, without a further presentation of facts or figures, which might be given ad infinitum, if you give the subject even your briefest consideration, don't you realize that we have already arrived at a most deplorable state as regards our timber lands? And, do you wonder how this has been permitted to happen? Formerly the farmer "logged" a little each winter, selecting only his best trees for market, a method which if persisted in would have enabled him to log so indefinitely, but soon the demands for timber increased; more extensive logging operations came, and the portable saw mill. The mill owner stood ready to buy the timber by the lot or by the thousand, and take all, even the hard wood in many cases. Here was an opportunity for the shrewd farmer to procure for his timber the very last cent there was in it. Some sold for this reason, others because they were "hard up," or perchance to raise the price of a flivver; a few sold in order to escape the ever increasing high taxes levied, especially on the timber lots. However, everyone sold and apparently without one thought for the future. The sellers may not now have the value received; the towns have just so much less taxable property, and consequently an ever increasing tax rate and valuation on the remaining timberlands. So that today, in many cases, it becomes a distinct question whether or not the growth of certain stands of timber offsets taxes and pays any interest at all on the capital invested.

This, in the main, is how we have reached this state as regards our timberlands. What is to be done about it? Apparently much until we either obtain Federal laws controlling lumber operations or until there is a more general realization as to our true condition and a willingness and desire on the part of timberland owners to conserve what timber still remains.

(The largest owners of timberlands, the largest user of timber, is the farmer; consequently it is up to him to see to it that this devastation of our timberlands ceases. If he doesn't know just what he ought to do in this matter, let him post himself. Let him subscribe to the American Forestry Journal, let him join his State Forestry Association, send to the Department of Agriculture or Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., for a list of bulletins on such subjects as The Status and Value of Farm Woodlots in the Eastern United States; Care and Improvement of the Farm Woods; Forestry Lessons on Home Woodlands, etc. Let him send to the State Commissioner of Forestry for the Forest Manual, which will post him on fire protection, forest pests, slash laws, and give him other desirable information. If he is complaining of high taxes on his timberland, let him study Chapter 78, Public Laws of Maine, 1921, which is contained in the Forest Manual.)

Since this law (or privilege granted by the State, as it is not compulsory) should prove a high factor in the conservation of our Maine timberlands, and because thus far it is so little known, its substance is here given.

Make your timber lot an auxiliary State Forest by applying to the Forest Commissioner at Augusta, Me., who will supply blanks for the purpose. If accepted, then all pine timber under 16 inches, and all hemlock, spruce and fir under 12 in.

and all other timber regardless of its size, is exempt from taxation. On the land you will pay an annual tax at the prevailing rate and on a value not to exceed $5.00 per acre. In consideration of this concession, when you cut wood or timber for sale (not for own use) you agree to pay one-half of 1 per cent on the stumpage value, (the yield tax) during the first year, and an additional 1/2 of 1 per cent for each successive year's cutting up to 10 years, when the rate is, of course, 5 per cent, and the rate remains the same for all cuttings any time after 10 years.

You agree not to cut pine trees under 10 inches and to leave three seed trees on every acre cut over.

Not over 10 per cent of the area of any town can be so exempted in any one year, if the Town Assessors so decide. All money paid for the land tax, also that paid on the stumpage value for cut timber (the yield tax) goes to the town, county and state, just the same as the regular tax.

Is this law good enough to be made compulsory? We must conserve our remaining timber and grow more; if we do not voluntarily, then we must and probably will be compelled to do so.

BATES—WEST PARIS

Mrs. Elinor Heath Mann

A shadow rests not only upon the home and immediate circle of relatives, but upon the entire village of West Paris in the sudden passing out of earthly life on Jan. 17, of Mrs. Elinor Heath Mann, wife of Edwin J. Mann.

Besides the husband, she leaves three small children, Lewis, Gertrude and Edmeena. The oldest daughter, Geneva, lived only a year. Mrs. Mann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio R. Tuell, they survive her; also a grandmother, Mrs. Cynthia Heath Curtis.

Mrs. Mann was a charter member of the Universalist Church to which she gave her willing support and helpfulness. She was past worthy matron of Granite Chapter O. E. S., a member of Orward Rebekah Lodge and West Paris Grange. She was educated in the high school of West Paris and Westbrook Seminary.

Mrs. Mann was a young woman of pleasing personality and therefore made many friends. She was popular in the social life of the town and whatever work claimed her interest, she gave generously of her money, time and services.

The funeral service was held at her late home on January 20, conducted by a former pastor, Rev. H. A. Markley, who spoke words of comfort and peace. Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes assisted in the service. A large delegation from the different fraternal orders was present. Granite Chapter O. E. S. held their memorial service.

Friends attended the funeral from So. Paris, Bryant's Pond, Norway and Portland. Dr. F. E. Wheeler of Waterville was also present.

The floral tributes were beautiful, breathing a silent message of love and life.

There was a social gathering at the vestry Saturday evening in honor of the 23 birthday of Grace Eastman.

Preaching services were held at the church Sunday, the first for several weeks.

ACCIDENTS IN A PAPER MILL

The Oxford Paper Co. at Bumford, in 5 months, from June 1st to Nov. 1st last year had 720 minor accidents which received "first aid" treatment by the company. The number of "dressings" furnished were 2,305 and the days' work lost were 1,242 or an equivalent of more than four years of time for one person. The roasting mill and paper machine are each credited with 18 accidents.

CALF CLUB WORK

The cattle breeders of the State of Maine are this year going to put on an intensive campaign looking to the fostering of calf club work. All of the breeds will meet at farmers' week at Orono, Maine and it now looks as though the calf club leaders from the National Associations will be present there to push this work.

You can no doubt remember the time when it was Sonny's pig and Dad's hog, and Sonny's calf and Dad's cow. This time, however, we are glad to say, now almost past, and the boy whose he raised a calf well, derives benefits personally from so doing. As you probably know in this calf club work lies the hope of the future. It is carried out through the help of the county agents and various community project leaders, and through the development of calf clubs the boys and girls are taught to raise better stock, thereby improving themselves financially as well as physically and morally.

I would, therefore, urge your paper to write editorially on the importance of calf club work in your community. If it would be of interest to you I will make it a point to see that available information regarding this work and its progress shall be sent to you from time to time.

In a letter received from Earl J. Cooper, one of the pioneers in the State wide calf club campaign work, a man of national wide importance, occurs the following, in a discussion of the entertainment feature which accompanies the calf club work. "Many speeches have been given from time to time on 'Why John Leaves the Old Home Farm.' Perhaps some of these addresses have hit the mark to a certain extent, but no one can tell the years ago a calf club was organized in Winnebago County, Wisconsin. During the week of organization many meetings were held in the schoolhouses, and at such meetings the young people even took charge of programs. One evening during a very interesting meeting a boy of twelve years was asked to recite. The teacher announced that the boy had composed the poem himself. Here it is: Johnnie bought himself a pig with money he had earned. He named her Nell and fed her well and lots of tricks she learned. But Nell grew to be a hog and finer there were few. Then Father up and sold that hog—and kept the money, too. Next Johnnie got a little calf. In pay for hocking corn. He loved that calf, that calf loved him. As sure as you are born, But Calfs grew to be a cow. Then Father up and sold that cow and kept the money, too. Now Johnnie loved his little pigs, but Father loved his pigs. So Johnnie left the old home farm. And struck out for himself. Said Johnnie's Pa one summer's day, 'I often wonder why These kids don't seem to like the farm, the city is their cry. 'If you will be strange to me,' continued Johnnie's Pa, 'It only goes to show, though how ungrateful these kids are. When Johnnie heard what Pa had said, He gave a bitter laugh. He thought of those empty childhood days and of that pig and calf. A great deal of applause greeted the youngster when he had finished. No trained speaker could have done better. During that season over one hundred boys and girls cared for pure bred calves in Winnebago County, and 'owned them too.'"

In this letter Mr. Cooper comments on the fact that club is still a very active and vital organization in the county, and once again the club work brings home the fact that in the end the calf club work stands for ownership in the true sense of the word. The Holstein-Friesian Association was the first association to extend to the children the opportunity of registering their calves while they are still children under a Junior membership. The other breed associations are following their lead.

HOME GROWN MERCHANTS
Mail Order Houses and Your Local Paper. All business is conducted in the face of competition of various kinds some easy-going, lax, and other competition most vigorous and active.

Of late, however, the taking of business from the territory rightfully belonging to the home-grown merchant, by the mail-order house in the big city must be eternally considered, and considered with a big share of common sense and a definite effort to combat these inroads upon the local field of the home merchant.

It is beyond the power of the local merchant to supply a big, illustrated catalogue to his community, such as the mail-order house sends out. The local merchant, however, has the upper hand, if he did but know it, he cause of two things: He is on the ground and can show the goods themselves instead of showing a picture. And he has the best medium to develop the home field, the columns of his local newspaper.

There are several factors in making a sale: Quality of merchandise, contact with the buyer and confidence. The merchant must have the goods which his trade demands; he must let the customer know that he has the goods, and by fair and square dealing he must instill confidence.

We have heard business men say "everybody knows of me and my business—why advertise?" True, but does Mr. and Mrs. Everybody know what you have that they need, and when the goods arrive, and do they not sometimes forget to purchase some of the thing they need?

Every Business has some individuality which spells Success if the fact is made known by that most effective and most economical way known to the business world today, the columns of your local paper.

No merchant is free from the effect of the mail-order sales campaign—business is taken away from him right under his nose for the very reason that he does not give attention to his publicity that he does to his talk with the salesman of the wholesale house.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Kilgore went to Orlinfield one day recently and brought home an eighteen month old baby boy whom they are caring for.

Cecil Heath, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heath, was taken seriously ill Saturday night. A doctor was called to attend him. He is on the gain at the present writing.

Virgil Herrick, who has been working in the woods at West Auburn this winter, came home last week. The man for whom he was working was obliged to give up the job for the present on account of deep snow and scarcity of help.

Mrs. Alice Watson of Norway Center was with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Heath, Sunday, and until Monday forenoon, in caring for her grandson, Cecil Heath.

CONSTIPATION OFTEN POISONS SYSTEM

Mrs. Boyce Tells Her Experience

The majority of people suffer from constipation which poisons the whole system and causes coated tongues, bad headaches, foul breath and actual illness in children often results in high fever and worm trouble.

These conditions may be quickly relieved by Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller that has worked wonders for men, women and children since 1851.

"I have great faith in your Dr. True's Elixir. I give it to my boy, it is doing him much good and I would not be without a bottle for anything." Mrs. Joseph Boyce, (Tracy Station, N. H.)

You know the symptoms of chronic constipation: sour stomach, belching, offensive breath, heavy dull eyes, constant headaches, and general out-of-sorts grouchy feeling. Let Dr. True's Elixir help you. 40c, 60c, $1.20.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT
Whereas the great and supreme Ruler of the Universe has in His wisdom removed from among us our worthy and esteemed brother, Thomas F. Dresser, it seems eminently fitting in behalf of his long years of life and service to our order that we in this manner express our regard for the many duties he so faithfully performed and our sympathy to the bereaved family and friends. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Dresser, Fryeburg Lodge No. 48 of the O. E. F. have one of its oldest members, one who whenever possible, was a regular attendant and a good worker.

Resolved, That the sister who is left to mourn for him, we extend our sympathy and assure her that the Good God removes from earth those who are no longer needed.

Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, that these resolutions be spread upon our records, also a copy be sent to the relatives of the Brother and a copy be sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication.

Norway and Vicinity

American Legion Convention
The Oxford County Convention of American Legion was held at the Legion Hall, Norway, Monday afternoon and evening. County Chairman Albert Ballou of Rumford presided, the principal speaker being State Commander Perley H. Ford of Sanford, whose remarks held many suggestions for the delegates assembled from five Oxford County posts. Mr. Waldron of the Veterans Bureau explained procedure for filing claims and is personally to follow up a claim for a member of the local Post that has been delayed.

The evening meeting began with a supper served by the Auxiliary of the local Post. Past Commander Sikkenga of Norway acted as toastmaster and called on the following speakers: Commander Woodworth and Past Com. Wheeler So. Commander Langan, Oxford; Commander Napoleon Roy, Norway; Mrs. Thurlow, President of So. Paris Auxiliary and State Commander Ford of Sanford. Commander Ford spoke with much feeling of the responsibility and honor given him by the Maine Legionnaires and of his hopes and expectations for the Legion this year.

A far reaching plan of education to eliminate illiteracy and promote Americanism was his chief topic, although membership, community service, respect for the flag and proper observance of National Holidays were touched upon in a forcible and earnest manner that held attention throughout his talk.

The meeting was largely attended and others are to be held during spring and summer when methods of transportation will improve. Oxford County Association is wide awake and this joining together for mutual help is at this early date producing encouraging results.

Agricultural Department Notes
The instructor and students are working for better seeds for their projects. This department has already booked subscriptions for 18 bushels of certified potatoes raised and marketed by students of Presque Isle High School. This seed is endorsed by the state experts after months investigating the school and conditions under which the seed was raised.

Hereafter so far as possible all seeds for projects in crops during the summer will be secured from certified stock. This move is to improve crops in Norway and start the students right in their life work.

The small incubator, 120 egg size, will be used to test the comparative merits of two prominently advertised ration. The birds will be fed exclusively on these mixtures and a careful record kept by the boys as a part of their daily class work.

The students are preparing original papers on agricultural topics, as potatoes, corn, farm animals, etc., to be read at the grange meeting in the near future. This is not only an educational benefit to the class members, but is arranged to help the lecturer in her program.

Some inside information on poultry shows was gained during the last exhibition of the Western Maine Poultry Association. The class went on the job early and stayed late; they tabulated the breeds and made complete records of varieties and other interesting things. Point in scoring were observed with especial emphasis on the utilities.

Lester Richardson, a member of the class, won several prizes with his birds.

The Agricultural Club and Prof. Edward Brown of the high school and young lady friends enjoyed a snow-shove and ski trip to Mothers' Club Hall at Norway Lake, Wednesday evening. A delicious oyster stew supper was served and games followed. The party of thirty-six had one of the best times for the winter.

Old Time Sketch Promised
Dear Sir: I once lived in Norway and remember the early scenes and incidents connected with the town for I was born there in 1835, and lived there until 1878, when I removed to Lowell, Mass. Since the death of my husband in 1921, I have been living with my son in Alldiston. I am nearly 88 years old, but still can write with a fairly steady hand and as is the case with most old people live much in the past.

On reading the account of the burning of the old mill at the Falls, my mind was carried back to its early history, of incidents occurring between the years of 1840 and to the time of the "flood," not as far back as Noah's time, but in the spring of 1845 and I am very sure that your younger readers have never heard of it. Indeed, I can think of but one person living in Norway, if he is living, (Mr. Isaac Abbott at the Falls), who remembers it. If you would care to have the account for your paper, I would like to submit the manuscript for your inspection.—Mrs. Harriet E. Charles.

Send it, we want it.—Editor.

The Norway High seniors made a good sum for the piano fund Friday evening, when they furnished a supper, entertainment and dance at Grange Hall. All seats at the long tables were filled and the crowd remained for the evening sport.

The program before dancing was of a musical nature in which the High School Chorus figured conspicuously. Dorothy Goodwin, Inez McAllister, Myron Gilman, Hilda Russell, Doris Merrill and Gladys Barker were among the soloists and readers. Shaw's orchestra was advertised to furnish music but his team had another engagement and other music was substituted.

T. H. Noyes was in Boston last week calling on friends and business associates.

John Woodman has recently put a telephone in his house so his wife can talk with the neighbors.

American Legion Auxiliary

William Henry Stone, Post, American Legion Auxiliary held their regular meeting Wednesday, with the new officers in the chairs. Two new members were recruited. It was decided to hold a Valentine supper on Feb. 14 and issue a special invitation to all honorary members of the Legion. The supper committee will include Mrs. Nellie Merrill, chairman; Mrs. Rachel Brown, Mrs. Annie Prince, Mrs. Ida Gammon, Mrs. Eliza both Manning and Dorothy Truman.

The following invitation was issued for another good time, as follows: "The members of the American Legion Auxiliary extend to the members of the American Legion a most cordial invitation to a party in Legion Hall on the evening of January thirty-first at eight o'clock. Each one is to bring his mother, wife, sister or a friend and both must bring aprons. Be sure to come next Wednesday at eight and don't forget the apron."

Committees appointed:
Executive Com.—Mrs. Elizabeth Manning, Mrs. Nellie Merrill, Mrs. Maud H. Merrill, Mrs. Grace Fletcher, Mrs. Hazel Gurney, Miss May Marshall, Mrs. Ida Gammon, Mrs. Eva Fogg, Mrs. Alois Witham.

Finance Com.—Mrs. Ida Gurney, Mrs. Eva Fogg, Mrs. Grace Fletcher, Mrs. Belle Fletcher, Mrs. Edith Foss, Mrs. Bertha Young, Dorothy Truman, Mrs. Adelaide Stone.

Publicity and Membership Com.—Mrs. Hazel Gurney, Mrs. Edith Foss, Mrs. Bertha Young, Dorothy Truman, Mrs. Adelaide Stone.

Entertainment Com.—Mrs. Esther Sikkenga, Mrs. Eva Fogg, Mrs. Ida Gurney, Mrs. Rachel Brown, Mrs. Nellie Merrill, Harriet Knight.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 30th, there will be a meeting of the Official Board and their friends at the Community Hall, with a social program and an address by Dr. Charles R. Blair of Boston University.

Last Tuesday evening there was a fine attendance at the first meeting of the Epworth League Mission Study Class. In a very interesting manner, Mrs. Glenn Kelly took up the first chapter of the text book, "India on the March." Special topics were presented by members of the group, and the matter under discussion made still more vivid by use of maps and pictures. An interesting program is arranged for the next meeting, which will be on Tuesday evening, Jan. 30th, with Mrs. J. O. Wiles at 6 Hazen St.

The W. F. M. S. meeting this week will be with Mrs. C. I. Philbrook at 48 Beal St.

Congregational Church Notes

Sunday services: The subject of next Sunday morning's service will be "An Earnest Seeker." The pastor will also give a sermonette for the children. Sunday school meets at 12 o'clock. Junior C. E. at 3 o'clock. Christian Endeavor Society has its service at 6:30, subject being, "What are the Rightful Claims of Our Church Upon Us?" An unusually interesting service is planned for everybody at 7:30.

The concert program to be rendered by the Norway—Paris Band before the Firemen's Ball Tuesday evening has been arranged by Director Albie Cota and will be one of the features during the evening. Decorations will be in place by Monday evening and are sure to please. Word has come from surrounding towns that large numbers may be expected from the respective burgs and want tickets reserved. This looks good.

George C. Coe, of the Eastman Hill Stock Farm, Lovell, says: "That Mr. Earl J. Cota, of Chicago, Illinois, will there complete further the organization of the State of Maine at Orono, Maine, and will take it into the State of Maine this year. Also in Fryeburg and in Lovell a calf club is in course of organization."

Lester A. Cushman of So. Paris, over Stevens Pharmacy, has a radio service station. See ad.

ARE YOU PRODUCING CLEAN MILK?

Maine dairymen have much to be congratulated on. Maine produces more milk than any other New England state but one. Probably Maine milk is freer from disease than any other New England state. Figures show that Maine cows rank among the first as having less tuberculosis among the states east of the Mississippi River. But in spite of these facts many producers, through careless mess or neglect, are not living up to the reputation which Maine dairymen have established. Let us all work together to make Maine milk superior to any other in the world.

Perhaps the greatest trouble which is being encountered today in the production of milk is in preventing the entrance of dirt. Milk is probably our most necessary food. It is also one of the most difficult foods to distribute to the consumer in a clean and wholesome condition on account of its source of production and poor keeping qualities.

Milk as it comes from the cow is free from dirt and comparatively free from disease producing or otherwise harmful bacteria. The entrance of dirt starts as soon as the milk leaves the udder. Bacteria and dirt enter the milk even before it reaches the pail and the enemies of clean milk are ever waiting to pounce upon it. By far the greatest danger of milk becoming contaminated by tuberculosis germs is through particles of manure entering the milk.

Fortunately these enemies are easily ward off by little attention at the proper time. Two points of contact where dirt meets milk are easily prevented; first, by keeping cows flanks, udders and tail clean, wiping before milking, and second, by use of the hooded pail. Consider that it is raining drops of milk into your milk pail. An open top pail will permit the maximum amount of rain to enter while the hooded pail should allow practically none.

Dirty milk is an indication of carelessness on the part of the producer. There is some step in the care in production that has been neglected or overlooked. It has been the observation of the dairy division that the large majority of samples of dirty milk taken are those strained through a cheese cloth strainer. In the past the cheese cloth strainer has been widely used and it is to a large extent used today. It should be condemned. Work carried on by the United States Department of Agriculture shows that more sediment will be washed through eight thicknesses of cheese cloth than one thickness of filter cloth or cotton pad. Cotton pad is rapidly coming into use. It is less expensive than cheese cloth, as the cheese cloth must be washed and boiled after each milking to keep out bacteria and dirt.

Not only is dirty milk hard to sell on the market but it is likely to contain a larger number of bacteria. Bacteria clings to dirt particles. Many of these are the agents which set up the souring process in milk. This means losses to the producer either directly, because his product has been refused, or indirectly because the creamery has lost on account of the product souring and must either charge it to the producer as a whole or raise the price to the consumer which decreases the demand.

Over in New Hampshire at the Capital they are discussing the 48 hour law, the same as our law makers at Augusta will soon be doing. This is what the Plymouth Record, which agrees with our idea, has to say:

"The house of representatives is struggling with the 48 hour week question. We do not see any merit in the fact finding commission proposition. The 48 hour week bill will come to a vote eventually and the preliminary hearings on that would bring out the pertinent facts. They are readily available. The only way to settle the question is to let it come to a vote and defeat it. To pass the bill would be no settlement. Agitation by the paid union labor officials would immediately begin looking toward a legal 44 hour week. As Professor Keir said in the week. A public debate on Wednesday. The demand for a 48 hour week in the name of women is insincere. What is really intended is to gain a 48 hour week for men in the name of the women. Men are continuing the old practice of hiding behind women's skirts. We find many people who are getting out of patience with those classes, whether farmers or labor or capitalist, who run to the legislative bodies to fix up their economic or business questions."

The Meredith (N. H.) News, regarding the 48 hour law says: "The News hopes that this bill will be killed and killed hard. If it becomes law, a 44-hour week will be a real thing, and these well-paid, sleek agitators will see to it that there is always something on their program to give them a good living at the expense of their fellow men. We need more working hours instead of fewer. The people of France forged ahead even during the war, and are now performing wonders in an industrial way. But they are workers and frugal. Agriculture is dying in New Hampshire, our mills are going south, and if this bill becomes law, a heavy blow will be given to the best interests of our state. The pitiful joker in the bill, having the statute apply to all industries except farming, is an insult to the intelligence of the inmates of homes of feeble-minded, let alone hand it out to people of the State who have the intelligence to do their own thinking."

Less class legislation, less paid commission over-ight on individual rights and liberties is needed and not shorter hours of labor and old age pensions.

You Don't Seigh!

"I'd like to marry you," said Mabel Feigh, "For you have such a pleasant voice. But you, I fear, get very little peigh. And so I'll have to tell you neigh."

Who are the Real Owners of the Public Utilities?

"Now, who are the real owners of the public utilities? As a matter of fact, the public itself. First, somewhere in the neighborhood of one and a half million thrifty security holders have invested their savings with the light and power companies. Then there is another class, namely every person who carries a life insurance policy, because the insurance companies are also heavy investors in the securities of electric light companies—$300,000,000 are thus invested.

"Likewise every depositor in the savings banks of the country is interested in the success of the electric light and power business —and there are upwards of 27,000,000 of these depositors. It is estimated that these banks have invested one billion, seven hundred millions of depositors' money in the business of electricity supply.

"It thus seems to me that the answer to the question 'What does the public utility mean to the public?' is a simple one. The answer is that the whole public is interested in the success of the public utilities and their ability to finance and properly function."

PARIS HILL

Fred W. Shaw

After a long illness with pneumonia, Fred W. Shaw passed away Jan. 19 at his home. His age was 44 years.

Mr. Shaw was born in Paris, the son of the late George B. and Anna Farrar Shaw. He spent practically all his life in Paris and for a number of years repaired automobiles or employed as chauffeur. For sometime he had the contract to carry mail between Paris and South Paris, this being conducted by his son Clyde.

He was a member of the Paris Hill Baptist Church and of Hamlin Lodge, Knights of Pythias.

Besides his widow, who was Clintie Thurlow, and son Clyde, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. L. E. Cotton and Mrs. E. P. Curtis both of Paris, and four brothers, Mark P., Ernest E. and Gilbert E. all of Paris, and Charles L. of Auburn.

Funeral was held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon, attended by Mrs. Helen H. Carlson. A large representation from Hamlin Temple was present.

To be a good weather prophet is often a great convenience to yourself and others. Here is a simple and reliable way of telling if rain is coming during the day. As early as possible in the morning go out and search the sky for the smallest cloud that is in sight. Keep this under close observation for five minutes or so and note whether it alters in size. If the cloud gets smaller one can be almost certain of a fine day. On the other hand, if it increases in size, rain will surely come in a few hours. Where the cloud remains the same, size no special change in the prevailing weather is likely to take place. If the cloud increases very rapidly thunder is almost a certainty in the summer. Alteration in the size of clouds is connected with the state of the atmosphere. When the air is very dry and rain is unlikely, the clouds soon vanish; if the atmosphere is charged with moisture, the masses of vapor increase and this will soon be discharged in the form of rain.

ABILITIES THAT ARE LATENT

Few Realize to the Full Extent the Intellectual Powers They Have at Command.

How many times have you been forced to undertake some piece of work which you did not believe you could perform, only to find yourself agreeably surprised at the creditable way in which you finally accomplished it? You discovered latent abilities which only come to light through the driving force of necessity. There is no doubt we all have possibilities which we do not suspect. All that is needed to develop them is self confidence and initiative.

Many people never succeed because they never try. They lack faith in themselves. The habit of saying "I can't" is an easy one to acquire, and it grows stronger with time, but it does not lead to accomplishment. It does not put our faculties to work to overcome the perplexities of the job which confronts us. Many people feel that unless they can solve some problem easily they lack the ability to do it at all. They do not realize that the performance of anything worth while requires much hard work and hard thinking.

Don't allow yourself to become conceited or to get into an overconfident frame of mind in regard to your ability, but nevertheless do not give up trying to achieve some goal until you have brought every faculty into play. You concentrate strongly enough on the effort you will be surprised at the results.—Exchange.

BLIND MAN "SEES" WITH NOSE

Making Up for the Loss of Sight, Nature Increases Power of the Olfactory Organs.

A blind man can "see with his nose." So, at least, writes a blind man who has made a study of his own faculties and those of his companions in darkness.

"The sense of smelling among the blind," he says, "grows exceedingly sharp, and we utilize it instinctively for our purposes, for which the normal man naturally uses his eyes. The smell, in particular, helps us in creating a sense of locality, and enables us, in a region in which we are at home, to find the way as easily and surely as if we could see the world around us with our eyes. It is relatively easy for the nose, as there are not two streets that have the same odor."

"Not only has each street its particular odor, but also the various parts of the same street; nay, each house has its characteristic smell, and the blind man knows in a street through which he often comes where he is. For the recognition of human beings the sense of smell is likewise invaluable. Besides the special smells of cigars or perfumes, there are many delicate scents by which he can recognize men. Every material of clothing has a definite odor, and with a little experience the blind man can 'see with his nose' whether one wears wool, silk or velvet."

Points of the Moon.

The "points" or ends of the crescent moon always point away from the sun. When the moon is new the setting sun, or sun recently set, is on the west of it, which sends the points to the east. As the sun sinks farther below the horizon the points of the crescent moon point more in an upward direction; for the convex part of the crescent must always be toward the sun. When the moon is waning the sun is on the east of it, which, of course, sends the points toward the west. The moon is always a sphere; the crescent is merely that part of its illuminated side which we are in a position to see.

Mean Man.

Mrs. N. Parker came bursting in to see her new neighbor, and found Mr. Jones reclining in an armchair.

"Well, Mr. Jones, and what's Mrs. Jones doing?"

Mr. Jones sucked his pipe with evident enjoyment.

"Ah, poor soul, she's dying!"

Mrs. Parker was horrified.

"What? You brute! Why don't you do something?"

Just at that moment Mrs. Jones walked in.

Mrs. Parker spluttered:

"But—but you said she was dying!"

"Yes," said Jones quietly. "So she is—to see you mind your own business."

None of the Apple Goes to Waste.

The thoroughness with which the apple is now worked over and utilized by some manufacturers makes it comparable with the packing-house pig that leaves only a futile squeal. In many of the apple-using factories the apples are first pressed to produce cider, which may be sold as such or may be manufactured into vinegar. After thorough pressing the pomace is treated with hot water to remove the pectin, which, after purification, is sold in either liquid or solid form to manufacturers of jellies and similar products and to housewives. The much wasted and squeezed residue is dried, ground and sold as cattle food.—Department of Agriculture Bulletin.

C. W. Class Notes
The following committees of the C. W. Class of the Congregational Church were elected to serve for two months:
Sunshine Com.—Gladys Barker, Dorothy Flint, Josephine McAllister, Helen Richardson.
Refreshments—Verna Kimball, Clara Hall.
A contest between the C. W. Class and Rev. O. E. Barnard's class of boys was started during the early winter. This contest ended January 14, 1923, in favor of the boys. Total number of points on both sides were, boys 1875, girls 1895.

The losing side were to give a supper to the winners. An oyster stew supper will be served at the Norway Cedar Church Saturday evening, January 27. The team will leave the postoffice at 5:30 p. m. sharp. Every member of both classes should plan to go as a good time is anticipated.

Ancient Town Officer
James B. Frost, Norway Lake is the owner of an ancient book. It was printed in Hallowell by Glazier & Co., No. 1 Kennebec Row in 1824, entitled: "The Powers and Duties of the Town Officer as contained in the Statutes of Maine; with forms adapted thereto, including also the powers and duties of Plantation and Parish Officers and Other Useful Matters."

The book bears the name of Moses Young of Waterford and came to Mr. Frost by way of auction.

The Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency has negotiated the sale of the seven room dwelling, No. 22 Crescent St., Norway Village, from John H. Haverin to Robert York. Mr. York will make extensive repairs for its use as a permanent residence.

The Norway Board of Trade will observe ladies' night at the Grange Hall, Feb. 8th. Supper will be served, music will be furnished by Miss Ruth Cummings, Miss Marjorie Haskell and Mrs. Mary M. Stone. The speaker of the evening will be W. B. Moore of Portland, who will speak on the possibilities of the State Pier as pertaining to the rural communities.

We had a piece of the prize winning domestic cheese, recently. The cheese was made by Mrs. A. G. Lovejoy of Milletville. It won the blue ribbon over all competitors at the Oxford County fair last September. We can truthfully say the judges made no mistake in giving the prize. Our wish is that we could have a whole cheese just like it.

Noble's Corner

Mrs. I. P. Symonds spent the week end at Charles Seavey's, Beal St., Norway.

Violet Upton spent one night last week with her schoolmate Freda Hobbs.

Milletville and Crockett Ridge
Heywood Club Notes

The Club began its new year at Mrs. Elinor Buck on Wednesday, Jan. 24.

The week with the following officers in the chairs:
Pres.—Mrs. Eva Jackson.
Vice Pres.—Mrs. Addie Young, Mrs. Chris Noble.
Sec.—Mrs. Carrie Jackson.
Treas.—Mrs. Hattie Buck.

The same New Year's Resolution "To help when we can" were put into play at once, for the program for the day was a quilting. Yvonne Frechette, a neighbor's daughter and student at High School boarding in the village, lost all her bedding in the recent fire at the Beal house. Mrs. Elinor Buck donated a new quilt top that she had just pieced up and the club bought, batting and lining and the busy fingers of the members soon had it tacked and finished. Mrs. Emily Abbott gave another quilt from her own supply and several members other articles which were all delivered that night at Yvonne's mother's for her with a little note expressing good will of the club. Mrs. Buck desired tiny refreshments after the work was finished.

The meeting previous was with Mrs. Carrie Jackson but owing to sickness in two families only five members were present but the time passed pleasantly over the chocolate cups if the gathering was small.

The Neighborly Club after three futile attempts because of severe storms, finally met with Mrs. Harry Millett on Thursday with the sun shining indoors and out though the wind blew a cutting blast.

Only two members, Mrs. Lovejoy and Mrs. Westleigh were absent, because they dared not leave home as their chimney was slowly burning out.

The ladies were busy sewing and chatting while the little folks were having a delightful Dollies' Christmas. Dorothy Millett had decorated a Doll's Tree and invited the children to bring their dolls and gifts for them and despite the many weeks delay those dollies enjoyed their tree immensely and so did their "Mamas" if happy voices tell us. There were real tiny dollies' books for each one and a real comb, brush and mirror for one, a bath robe handmade by one little mother, and bags, oh so tiny, full of candy and part of all a lovely party while the dollies' "grandmothers" enjoyed hot coffee and refreshments in another room.

The Milletville School after, an extra two week vacation because of no teacher opened last week with Mrs. Fred Lovejoy as teacher. Mrs. Lovejoy taught there seven years ago as Miss Kneeland successfully. Then she married Fred Lovejoy. She is interested to see the school kept in session especially as she has little ones of her own to attend another term. So she arranged with the State to teach a half session each day and the children are busy making up for lost time.

ANNUAL MEETING

Alumni Association of Bridgton Academy
It was my privilege to be present at the Annual Meeting of the Alumni Association and friends of Bridgton Academy on Friday evening, the 19th instant at the Bellevue Hotel, Boston.

It was very much regretted by all that the invited guest of honor, the venerable former principal of the Academy, Prof. John P. Moody was unable to be present. The unavailability of the president of the Association, Ernest P. Stevens was also the cause of sincere regret. Interesting addresses were made by C. C. Spratt, who presided, H. H. Savage, Dr. D. O. S. Lowell, Dr. C. B. Sylvester. Principal Sampson's talk on present conditions and needs of the Academy was interesting and instructive and the future of this old and honored institution of learning is bright indeed, with the boosting attitude of its many friends, it is sure to retain its present position as one of the best preparatory schools in Maine.

I was particularly pleased that Principal Sampson was privileged to have present at this meeting a young girl student from Waterford, Louise Hersey, who ranks high in scholarship, and also a boy student who enjoys high rank, both of whom addressed the gathering with much credit to themselves, I think; when we consider that they were selected to do their part without previous preparation and came from their accustomed quiet to the bustling city and address a gathering of this kind.

Dating back as I do to 1867-68-69, my years in school at Bridgton, I had no reason to expect to meet many who were my schoolmates. I did however meet some "old timers," among who were H. H. Savage, now a prominent citizen of Wakefield, Mass. and Dr. D. O. S. Lowell, now retired, but long a figure prominently identified with educational interests here in Massachusetts.

Sixty-five sat at the banquet table and the whole evening was thoroughly enjoyable and we hope productive of great good to the institution which was represented. Much credit is due the committee having in charge the details of this affair for the very efficient manner in which their work was performed.

Eugene Nelson.

OXFORD

Death of William L. Chaffin, D. D., William L. Chaffin, D. D., who died, Jan. 7, at his home in Easton, Mass., was born in Oxford, Aug. 13, 1837, and the son of William F. and Mrs. Louise (Shattuck) Chaffin. He claimed to be the oldest active clergyman in the United States.

When he was a year old the family moved to Concord, N. H., after his father had died. His mother being an invalid, he was adopted by an aunt, Mrs. Nancy Chaffin, of Concord. He entered the Unitarian Theological School at Meadville, Penn., in 1857 and graduated in 1861. On July 12, 1862, he married Rebecca I. Bagley of Meadville.

While a minister of the Second Unitarian Society of Philadelphia, he edited in 1863 in the 58th Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers and served in the campaign that resulted in the capture of John Morgan, the Confederate cavalry leader. In 1865, he became pastor of the Unitarian church in Fitchburg, Mass.

On the first Sunday in January, 1868, he was installed pastor of the Unitarian church in Easton and held that position 5 years, dying on the first Sunday in January 1923. In 1914, he accepted the help of Rev. Fred R. Lewis as assistant pastor. In 1912 he celebrated the 50th anniversary of his ordination. In 1918 he celebrated the 50th anniversary of his pastorate in Easton. He was chaplain of the Easton G. A. R. Post. In 1886, he published an elaborate history of the town of Easton. In 1909 he followed up with a "History of Robert Randall and His Descendants," and more recently, with a history of the Chaffin family.

Dec. 15, last, he collapsed at the funeral of his wife, and the end came 23 days later, aged 85 years, 4 months, 24 days.

FORE STREET

Flora Cummings is home from South Paris where she has been caring for Mrs. Theresa Grover who has so far recovered from her severe cold as to dispense with the care of a nurse.

Walter Brazette of Oxford, who has been working for Al Twitchell has returned home, to care for his mother who is quite feeble.

Mrs. John Grover is boarding men that are working for the Central Maine Power Co. in Oxford Village.

Several teams pass over this road daily laden with men, wood, ice or lumber.

Mrs. Alvin Lovejoy is confined to the house with a severe cold.

Mrs. Alice Cummings has returned from Austin Stearns Jr., Paris where she has been nursing.

Did it ever occur to the readers of Oxford Fore St. news that the name Fore St. might easily be changed to Peddler Village? The facts are that only three families but are or have been peddlers of meat, milk, fruit or other articles of commerce. Ira Harriman, A. D. Cummings and Leon Twitchell are retired milk men, all three at different times ran a milk cart in the neighboring villages. Talbot & Son now fill that office. Will Twitchell is a retired fruit peddler, while Elmer Twitchell and Al Twitchell are still carrying on the business with the addition of hulled corn, extracts and honey. John Grover, despite his many other branches of business peddles meat. Chas. Stanton at the head of the St. and the Dwinalls at the foot of the street are the only ones not occupied this way except, Mrs. Chas. Allen and daughter, Mrs. Ira, who does much fine needle work which is on sale at stores in Norway. She also supplies many individuals with the same. This takes in all the houses on Oxford Fore St., except the ones not permanently occupied.

LOCKE'S MILLS

Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Abbott, who are moving to Lisecol, Maine, were given a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rand recently. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott were presented with an electric reading lamp. Games were enjoyed during the evening and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Frank Cummings visited here over the week end.

E. T. Roberts and son Reginald were at Bethel Saturday to have dental work done.

Ruth Cole was at Bethel, Saturday. The farm buildings owned by Ael Bryant were burned Friday night.

Mrs. Jennie King was at Bryant Pond Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Artemas Smith are moving into a part of the house owned by Clifton Swan.

Ralph King visited friends at Bethel Saturday.

STOW

Ruth Verrill is sick at her boarding place in Bridgton where she is attending High School. Miss Verrill is the daughter of Mrs. Harold Merrill of this town.

Will Flint and son Clarence are hauling lumber for the Diamond Match Co. to Kezar River, also Ethelbert Bennett and Harold Merrill are hauling from the same lot.

L. H. Merrill is hauling pulp for W. D. Moulton to Kezar River; he finds it pretty hard getting round in the woods the snow is so deep.

Preston Flint came home from South Waterford Saturday to attend the Grange Installation but on account of the bad storm it was postponed until next Saturday. An oyster supper was to be served after the installation.

Wendell Plummer spent the week end in North Lovell, Jan. 20 calling on friends and relatives.

Enfield Plummer has a bad cold but is better at the present writing.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Ellis Davis spent the week end at his uncle's Dannie Bryant's at Bryant Pond. Nearly all the farmers have their ice harvested.

Linwood Verrill has been very sick with the measles; he is now convalescing. Mrs. Otis Estes visited her sister, Mrs. Fred Verrill one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings moved back to R. L. Cummings' Monday. They have been to West Paris several weeks with Mrs. Cummings' parents.

Alton Day has been drawn for traverse juror for the February term of court.

Mrs. Bickford of Milan, N. H. is caring for Mrs. Clara Felt.

Albert T. Taylor is stopping at Albert Russ' and Clifford is working for G. W. Q. Perham.

Edwin Perham attended the carnival at Gorham two days last week.

Unique gifts for all occasions can be found at the Gift Shop at Bridgton. See ad in this issue.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Ice Fishing Hike

Boy Scouts from West Paris, Bryants Pond, Lockes Mills and West Bethel were on deck at North Pond Saturday for a day of Ice Fishing and Scoutcraft. Representatives from three troops stayed over night (preceding) at Reeds camp. The weather and spunk kept the numbers down small but those who were on deck made the most of it.

Harry Packard was in charge for the trip in place of Executive Perham. County Examiners Waterhouse, Perham and Mason were in charge of the Scoutcraft Department with good results. Everyone lent a willing hand in work and play.

Scouts Billings, J. Farnum, L. Jordan, P. Dudley, G. Forbes, V. Corkum and Melville Jordan passed various tests in scoutcraft. Tests were passed in Use of Axe, Animal Description, First Aid, Judging Distance, Firebuilding and cooking. One squad took tests while the others went ice fishing then vice versa. The scouts present on the hike were Stanley Perham and Warren Waterhouse, West Paris; James Billings, Lawrence Jordan, Percy Dudley, Joseph Farnum and Geo. Forbes, Bryants Pond; Harry Packard, Irvin Mason and Verne Corkum, Lockes Mills; Melville Jordan, West Bethel.

Rumford Boy Scouts

Troop No. 1, G. Douglas Clark, Scoutmaster and Troop No. 3, Arthur Welch, Scoutmaster joined hands at the municipal Court room last Thursday. Eight new members reported to join the ranks of Troop No. 3. Five scouts were placed on the Associate membership list on account of non-active interest. Official scout tests were passed by Elmer Welch, E. Amen, D. Seymour, A. Yukins, R. Beers, H. Fernald, F. Gallant and B. McConaghy, Scout Bernard McConaghy completed his Second Class requirements and will receive his Badge at the Court of Honor meeting held the first of the month. Scout McConaghy was a member of the Oxford County Scout Camp for the season 1922.

The Basket ball game on the following night with the Stephens High School Freshmen turned out a defeat for Troop 1, 28-20. This was the troops first game and they put up a stiff game. The opposing Freshmen team had two Troop No. 1 men on their team, of course, adding considerably to their strength.

Virginia Boy Scouts

Troop No. 2, Virginia-Rumford is certainly filling up for business in fine shape. Twenty-six out of a possible twenty-nine scouts were present and accounted for. Three more members will close the doors on New Scouts for the present at least.

The Basket Ball game played the following night with Troop No. 1, Rumford in the Municipal Hall proved the real stuff. Troop No. 1 was the winner 24-18. This was a fast game and hard fought by both sides. Tom Maynard and Captain Abe Coblentz starred for Troop No. 1.

Buckfield Boy Scouts

This is a great limbering up season for the scouts of Oxford County. These are the days preceding the Annual Scout Meeting at the Municipal Hall, the 13th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The Annual Banquet during this week has already begun to appeal to the hearts of over 400 scouts in the County. This Banquet will be a great gathering of the fathers, mothers and scouts in the different vicinities.

Troop No. 1, Buckfield, Carl Fuller, Scoutmaster is whipping in line for the re-registration of its full numbers in February. The last two meetings have been run in regular style. Assistant Scoutmaster, Arthur Hutchinson, assisted in general charge of scoutcraft. Patrol Leaders S. Hutchinson and Wendall Allen took charge of Roll Call.

Classes in Signalling, First Aid, Knot Tying, Map Making have been in charge of Scoutmaster Fuller and the Troop Examiners, Fred Jumping, Belay Races, and Indoor Scout Games proved snappy and meetings have increased in numbers.

A BIG SELLING EVENT OF HIGH GRADE MERCHANDISE AT SHARPELY REDUCED PRICES

It is the policy of the Merchant Store not to carry over merchandise from one season to another. Although there are several weeks of winter ahead, our actual selling season is far advanced. We must begin to plan for the spring season by reducing our stocks. If you need Dry Goods or Dry Goods Wearing Apparel, by all means take advantage of the substantial savings this sale affords.

Bear in mind that everything in our stocks is of dependable quality, and a sound value at the regular prices.

In view of the very low prices prevailing it is desired that cash be tendered in payment of purchases rather than a request for goods on memorandum.
